To whom it may concern:

It is with great pleasure that I write this letter of recommendation for Ms. Ida Zetterberg.

I work as an upper secondary school teacher in Mathematics and History at Lundellska skolan in Uppsala. For three years, from August 2020 until June 2023, I was a mentor and a teacher of Math and History for Ida when she attended the school's natural science programme, and I got to know her well. Ida was a high performing student who excelled academically and was also a positive and committed force amongst her fellow students. Ida is friendly, open and sociable as a person, and I believe that she possesses the maturity and dedication needed for higher education. As a student she is hardworking and disciplined, successfully collaborating with peers and teachers within the school framework. She has a responsible approach to everything she engages in and one can count on her giving her full commitment to anything she undertakes. In group projects she has shown leadership and have taken a position as a leader but still shown good abilities to work with other students in her group

I am certain that Ida will be an equally appreciated student at your university as she has been at our school. Based on her performance with us, I have no hesitations in recommending Ida for your study programme. Please feel free to contact me with any inquiries that you may have.

Yours Sincerely,

Mr Karl Ekmyr
