

Letter of recommendation for Simon Persson

Dear sir/madam

I am writing on behalf of Simon Persson, who is applying for college next year. I have known Simon for the past two years, both in class as Simons teacher in Swedish and Religious studies, but also as his supervisor/mentor at Polhemskolan in Lund, Sweden.

From the start Simon has been engaged in his studies and been able to combine excellent results in school with his sport activities. He is a student that is well prepared for lessons and has a positive attitude toward school and the tasks given, which makes Simon a good asset in class. He is focused and independent during individual tasks, but is also a good team member and always takes responsibility during group activities. I find Simon to be a hardworking and organized person who is able to structure a busy schedule with school and sport activities.

During lessons Simon is interested and concentrated. In my Swedish class I find Simons essays well structured with rich content, he has good writing skills and his oral presentations are well performed with good rhetoric.

Considering Simons determination and motivation to achieve set goals, as well as his ability to combine school and other activities I strongly recommend Simon Persson for further studies and I think he will be an excellent asset to your college.
